By far the greater portion of the city government of Salem is represented here, and prominent citizens of that town are numerous in the city today. There are also great numbers of Mr. Metzger's friends from other towns in Lisbon attracted by the case.

NOT SATISFIED.

TWO PURCHASERS OF REAL ESTATE GO TO COURT.

Mrs. Aten, of Wellsville, And Joseph Faloan Claim They Were Deceived.

Lisbon, March 28.—(Special.)—Lulla E. Aten claims that she was cheated in a real estate deal with Nora Pearson last November and wants judgment for $400. She purchased lot 13 in Henry Aten's addition to Wellsville, paying $3,600 for the same. She says the property was represented to her as being a full-sized lot, but she claims to have discovered later that one Van Dyke owned a part of it and that the defendant had no right to sell it or make a deed for it.

Joseph S. Faloan, of Hanoverton, wants the court to undo a real estate transaction made by him with Samuel M. Burson and to restore to him his property. Burson owned 320 acres in Missouri, for which he claimed he paid $5,400. He represented to Faloan, it is claimed, that it was good rich land and was partly covered with valuable timber. Faloan's lot he held at $3,500, and traded it for Burson's land, giving $100 to boot, paying $25 down and giving his note for the balance. He says he made the trade on Burson's representation concerning the farm and has found that the land is rocky and sandy, hilly and dry. He wants the court to decree the sale to be false and fraudulent and to compel Burson to surrender the note and the $25.

Assignee Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, was today authorized by Judge Boone to sell at private sale the personal property of Harry J. Windham, the confectioner, who assigned recently.

P. M. Smith, of Wellsville, on application was released from the bond of Caroline Hayes as guardian of Jay H. Hayes and others. A new bond will be given within 10 days.

The will in the estate of the late Caroline McLaughlin, of Elk Run township, has been filed for probate.

John H. Gardner was last evening selected as guardian for James Gardner and others, of Middleton township, and a $200 bond was filed.

THE DENNIS CASE

INSURANCE AGENT ON TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE BOONE.

Accused of Violating the Law Regarding a State License.

Lisbon, March 28.—(Special.)—The case of Ohio vs. A. T. Dennis, of Canton, was called in probate court last night and the session continued until nearly midnight. Dennis is an insurance agent and is being prosecuted under a state law which makes it a serious offense to act in Ohio for a foreign insurance company without a license from the state superintendent of insurance.

Last July Dennis insured the store of Robert Treffinger, of Milford, in the Mercantile Fire Insurance company for $1,500, and in the Commercial Fire Insurance company, of Delaware, for $1,000. The penalty for the offense is not more than $1,000 fine or imprisonment not more than six months or both. Attorney D. W. Shetler and Judge Albaugh, of Canton, are defending Dennis, the latter to protect his son, Dennis' partner, who in case of Dennis' conviction might be prosecuted in Stark county.

GIRLS HAVE STRUCK

CULMINATION OF THE GOODWIN POTTERY DISPUTE.

Warehousewomen's Local Took Action at a Meeting Last Evening.

A very interesting meeting of the warehousewomen's union was held in council chamber at city hall last night and the trouble at the Goodwin pottery was thoroughly discussed. The matter was put to a vote and it was unanimously decided for the girls to go on strike, which they did this morning at lunch time.

The girls went to work this morning and their demands were again presented to Mr. Goodwin, but he refused to grant them, and at lunch time they walked out of the plant. When seen this morning in regard to the trouble Mr. Goodwin said:

"There is no trouble between the Goodwin Pottery company and the warehouse girls. The trouble is between the girls and Mr. Hughes."

A reporter called on Mr. Hughes, who stated that it was between the girls and the Goodwin Pottery company in regard to the number of girls to be employed in the biscuit warehouse; that he in company with a committee from the union called on Mr. Goodwin Tuesday and endeavored to settle the difficulty, but he wanted it placed in the hands of the arbitration committee. The girls decided at their meeting last night not to place the matter in the hands of the committee and Mr. Hughes was notified to that effect this morning.

The girls striking will close the whole plant, the dippers and kilnhands having been compelled to quit work this morning, as there was no ware.

JOSEPH DAVIS WINS HIS SUIT

Gets Judgment Against the Street Railway For the Amount Claimed.

JUSTICE M'LANE'S DECISION

Rendered After a Full Hearing Last Night Reinstates the Conductor And Settles the Controversy With the Union—The Testimony Given.

The action brought by Joseph Davis in the court of Justice McLane against the East Liverpool Street railway was given a hearing last evening. Davis came off victorious.

Attorney W. K. Gaston represented the plaintiff, and R. G. Thompson the street railway. But two witnesses testified for the company, Superintendent Wescott and Spotter Nelson Brooker.

Davis was the first witness examined and he testified in his own behalf. He stated to the best of his knowledge he had made a correct accounting to the company for every cent of their money handled by him. He was absolutely sure of this on February 19, the date upon which the shortage was alleged to have occurred. He also told the court he knew Brooker and knew his business that day. The plaintiff rested its case at this point and Brooker was put on the stand.

He testified that on February 19 he had boarded a car at the first switch east of the Wellsville turntable at 11:40 and remained on the car until 12:30. He saw Davis collect 15 fares and noted but 12 had been registered. He was in doubt as to one of these, but was positive the conductor was two fares short. He got off the car at the loop. When asked where he went from there he could not state, and as his memory seemed very bad on a number of other important matters, his evidence had little weight. When questioned he did not know how many passengers were on the car when he boarded it; neither did he remember how many got off or on during the trip. He said he was connected with the United States Detective agency, but refused to answer a question as to how he came to be connected with the East Liverpool company until he was told he had better answer or go to jail. The witness answered each question with a great deal of reluctance and seemed in constant fear of contradicting himself. This had the effect of making his testimony practically worthless.

Superintendent Wescott testified as to the methods of the company in requiring the conductors to make reports each day. He gave the figures for Davis' report on February 19.

Motorman Gus Brandenburg was next called and testified that he ran the car, No. 6, on the day in question. He knew Booker was a spotter, and when asked how he remembered, he stated that he went into the car, and, standing directly in front of the spotter, sized him up for fully a minute. He could not be mistaken. The man was a curiosity and he could not forget. While Gus was on the stand Wescott made some remark questioning the honesty of the motorman. Brandenburg became very angry.

Harry Thoms also knew Brooker was a spotter, and wound up his testimony by stating that the spotter did not know constables were permitted to ride free.

E. S. Kelley, David Mortman and E. L. Taylor, all of Wellsville, were character witnesses, the former testifying that Davis had been in his employ for several years. He was a young man of unquestioned honesty, and was one of the most careful employees that ever worked in his establishment. The other witnesses testified in about the same strain.

The evidence was all in at 9:30 and the justice was not long in rendering a verdict. He referred to the fact that there had been but two witnesses who had given any direct testimony bearing on the case, and from the manner of the spotter he was in doubt as to whether his memory had served him well. He had been so positive about some points and upon others was at a loss to recall anything. For this reason there was some speculation as to his sincerity. However, Justice McLane rendered judgment in favor of Davis for the full amount, $6.24.

This not only entitles the conductor to the money held back by the company, but reinstates him in his old position, according to the agreement entered into between the union and the company.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

WITH AGUINALDO THREE STAFF OFFICERS WERE TAKEN.

Valuable Documents Also Captured. Insurgent Officer Killed in the Fighting.

Washington, March 28.—(Special.)—Details of the capture of Aguinaldo state that three of his staff officers were taken with him. A number of important documents were also taken. An insurgent major was killed in the fighting that preceded the capture.

Aguinaldo seems resigned to his fate and as proud and boastful as ever. He is very cheerful.

An official dispatch from General McArthur and Admiral Remey says Aguinaldo is a prisoner in McArthur's palace. The disposition to be made of the prisoners has not been decided on.

SEQUEL TO A BET

STAKEHOLDER ARRESTED FOR KEEPING THE MONEY.

Development in a Pulling Match Where $50 a Side Was Up.

Thomas McLaughlin and John Nisson on Tuesday engaged in an argument as to the strength of their horses and placed $50 apiece in the hands of Lyman Rinehart that each had a horse which could outpull the other's. Two judges were selected, but they did not decide who was the winner and Rinehart retained the money.

Nisson thought he was the winner and upon the failure of Rinehart to turn the money over to him he went to the office of 'Squire Rose and swart out a warrant for his arrest, charging him with wrongful conversion with intent to defraud. Rinehart was arrested, taken into court and placed under $200 bond for his appearance in court next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, when the case will be heard.

McLaughlin was arrested yesterday afternoon and fined $2 and costs for cruelty to animals.

STEBENVILLE'S PRIZE

Streets are to be vacated and part of a ward razed to make room for the new mills, which will give employment to 1,500 men.

A telegram to Chief of Police Thompson this morning stated that Margaret, sister of James Maher, died suddenly in Washington, D. C., today. The chief was requested to notify her brother, who was reported to be a printer in East Liverpool.

Inquiry developed that the dispatch evidently refers to Margaret Mayer, who lived in this city several years ago. John Mayer was employed in this city for a number of years, but has been in Cleveland for some time.

LOCAL GROCERS DO NOT LIKE IT

Complaint of Outsiders Who Take Orders and Sell Goods at Cut Prices.

NOT A PENNY INVESTED

The Cheap Way They Do Business Alleged to Work Harm to Men Who Carry on the Business Extensively, Having Much Capital in It.

The installment agencies have in the past interfered considerably with the sales of the larger merchants, but lately there has been inaugurated in this city a system of selling groceries and other articles usually found in a first-class grocery store, which will have a very bad effect if it is permitted to continue.

A number of good solicitors have been canvassing the town for orders for groceries. They do business upon a cash basis. Their profits are necessarily small, but when it is considered that they have not a penny invested, it is a fairly good investment. Their plan is to make up a list of the common sort of necessities, such as every housewife must have and offer them at a low figure, perhaps even cheaper than they can be bought at a cash grocery. The average woman will not refuse a bargain, especially if accustomed to running an account. The result is she will save sufficient money from each pay to invest in the wares of the solicitor. No fault can be found with the goods, as they are invariably purchased from some of the local merchants, and owing to the fact that they are bought in large quantities the grocer can mark them down.

Said one grocer in regard to the business: "As far as described, it is perfectly legitimate. But what of the merchant who pays several hundred dollars a year for rent, maintains a force of helpers, keeps his place equipped in the way of delivery wagons, heating, lighting, etc? The larger the establishment the heavier the taxes, and this is no small consideration. The other man has nothing invested. If he sells an order for a penny more than it costs he is a penny ahead. He has no rent to pay, as he has no store. When he gets an order he delivers it and there it ends. He pays no taxes. If he happens to be around when tax time comes, and there is any likelihood of his being assessed he changes his base of operations."

Another local grocer said yesterday: "I would not undertake to say that these order-takers are not good citizens, but they certainly do the legitimate merchant a great deal of injury. In addition to the very heavy expense connected with an establishment such as ours, there is not a popular subscription that ever misses us. If we refuse to contribute to a fund for some charitable purpose, no matter upon what grounds, we are put down as not being public spirited citizens. How many of the other class of merchants ever contribute to funds of this character? I want to state right here, it is a difficult proposition to make a grocery business pay in this city under these circumstances. A man must watch every detail, and watch it closely if he expects to make anything out of the trade."

STILL ON THE RISE

River 22 Feet And Packet And Towboat Business Continues Good.

The river continues to rise, and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 22 feet. The packets are doing a good business. The Ben Hur passed up last night, the Queen City passed down and the Greenwood and Lorena are due up tonight.

The following tows passed this city: Down—Enterprise, and the Robert Jenkins brought a tow of coal to this city this morning. Up—Tom Lysle and Charles Hook. The Hook was tied up here over night, coaling.

PRIEST SAW MORGAN

Father Phillips, of the Anthracite Region, Confers With the Great Financier.

AIM TO AVOID MINERS' STRIKE

Financier Said Action Could Be Taken Through Other Channels—Said He Thought There Would Be No Strike. Others With Phillips.

New York, March 28.—A delegation composed of five men representing trade interests in the Pennsylvania anthracite coal regions, with the Rev. Edward S. Phillips acting as the chairman, held a conference with J. Pierpont Morgan in the private office of Mr. Morgan in this city. The delegation who met Mr. Morgan comprised the Rev. E. S. Phillips, from Hazleton; Edward Lauderbach, the treasurer, and A. T. McAlister, the secretary of the Hazleton board of trade; J. H. Zerby, president, and L. W. Marquardt, chairman of the manufacturers' committee of the Pottsville board of trade.

Arrangements for this meeting were made this week by the officials of the various boards of trade of the coal region of Pennsylvania through Rev. Father Phillips, as chairman. The conference lasted less than half an hour. Father Phillips made a brief presentation saying that the delegation were there merely to try to bring about some action that would prevent a strike; that they were ready to act as an intermediary body to be used in any way that would compose any differences existing.

Father Phillips asked Mr. Morgan if he would meet John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' association, who has been in New York for several days. Mr. Morgan, in reply said in substance that his attitude up to that time had been toward the prevention of a strike. He said he was much interested in the mission of the delegation and he assured them that they could rely upon him to do all within his power to prevent any action that would paralyze business. He remarked, however, that he was disinclined to hold a public conference with labor leaders, indicating as a reason for this attitude the belief that, should a public meeting between himself and the labor leaders be held, the publicity thereof and possibly attendant conclusion might hamper the achievement of the best ends which all were seeking. In other words Mr. Morgan remarked, should he hold a public meeting or conference, "half of New York would be upon his heels." Mr. Morgan added that the ends sought could best be achieved through other channels and he assured the delegation that he might communicate with the boards of trade later.

"You may rest assured that I believe there will be no strike," remarked Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan shook hands with the members of the delegation and they departed. Mr. Morgan after the conference declined to make any statement relative thereto.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 28.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, issued a call for a joint meeting of the national executive board and the presidents of the three anthracite coal districts of Pennsylvania, to be held here Friday morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected. The meeting is called in pursuance of the resolutions adopted by the recent convention of mine workers at Hazleton and for the purpose of considering the report President Mitchell will present as the result of his visit to New York, where he has been endeavoring to secure a conference with the coal operators. It is believed the action to be taken at Friday's meeting will remove the uncertainty as to whether a strike will be declared April 1.

Cochrell Told Cubans Next Congress Might Demand More.

Havana, March 28.—The committee on relations of the Cuban constitutional convention expected yesterday so it was asserted, to complete its work of drawing up a report for the convention at today's session and to lay the matter before the convention Saturday.

The coming municipal elections are beginning to effect the political situation and to cause the drawing of party lines in the convention. This may result in a reaction from the somewhat liberal spirit that has been manifested by the Radicals during the last few days.

Senator Cochrell was visited by many delegates and he told them all that the Platt amendment is in the interest of Cuba and a guarantee of independence. He advised them to accept it promptly, suggesting that the next congress would not only be more liberal, but would be likely to ask for further concessions if the matter were postponed now.

DR. MEYER COMING

Eminent English Evangelist to Conduct Series of Meetings in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, March 28.—The Rev. F. B. Meyer, of London, will hold a series of meetings in this city on April 15, 16 and 17, in the Second United Presbyterian church, of Allegheny. He comes on the special invitation of the United Presbyterian churches as the other large denominations of the city declined to unite in the movement. The federation of churches will back up the invitation.

The meetings will be evangelistic largely with some special instruction to ministers and church workers. Dr. Meyer is now on his way north from New Orleans, holding evangelistic services in the large cities on the way. On next Friday he begins meetings in Louisville, Ky., and on this account the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, who has been in Pittsburgh several days, was obliged to leave for home. Dr. Meyer will hold his next meeting in Cincinnati. He will also visit Indianapolis, Columbus and Chicago before coming to Pittsburgh. Dr. Meyer is regarded as one of the greatest of living evangelists and has been selected as the successor of the late Evangelist Moody. He will come to this country in the fall and take charge of the various Moody institutions at Northfield.

The Rev. Campbell Morgan, a distinguished co-laborer of Dr. Meyer, will come to the United States in June and make a tour of the large cities. He was also a favorite of Evangelist Moody. The Rev. Dr. John McNeill, the celebrated Scotch evangelist, has been engaged to pass two weeks in August at Grove City, with the Bible school to be conducted in that place during the month of August. The people of the United States will thus get to hear the three great evangelists of Great Britain.

PRIEST SAW MORGAN

Father Phillips, of the Anthracite Region, Confers With the Great Financier.

AIM TO AVOID MINERS' STRIKE

Financier Said Action Could Be Taken Through Other Channels—Said He Thought There Would Be No Strike. Others With Phillips.

New York, March 28.—A delegation composed of five men representing trade interests in the Pennsylvania anthracite coal regions, with the Rev. Edward S. Phillips acting as the chairman, held a conference with J. Pierpont Morgan in the private office of Mr. Morgan in this city. The delegation who met Mr. Morgan comprised the Rev. E. S. Phillips, from Hazleton; Edward Lauderbach, the treasurer; and A. T. McAlister, the secretary of the Hazleton board of trade; J. H. Zerby, president, and L. W. Marguardt, chairman of the manufacturers' committee of the Pottsville board of trade.

Arrangements for this meeting were made this week by the officials of the various boards of trade of the coal region of Pennsylvania through Rev. Father Phillips, as chairman. The conference lasted less than half an hour. Father Phillips made a brief presentation saying that the delegation were there merely to try to bring about some action that would prevent a strike; that they were ready to act as an intermediary body to be used in any way that would compose any differences existing.

Father Phillips asked Mr. Morgan if he would meet John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' association, who has been in New York for several days. Mr. Morgan, in reply said in substance that his attitude up to that time had been toward the prevention of a strike. He said he was much interested in the mission of the delegation and he assured them that they could rely upon him to do all within his power to prevent any action that would paralyze business. Mrs. Aten, of Wellsville, And Joseph Faloon Claim They Were Deceived.

Lisbon, March 28.—(Special.)—Lulla E. Aten claims that she was cheated in a real estate deal with Nora Pearson last November and wants judgment for $400. She purchased lot 13 in Henry Aten's addition to Wellsville, paying $3,600 for the same. She says the property was represented to her as being a full-sized lot, but she claims to have discovered later that one Van Dyke owned a part of it and that the defendant had no right to sell it or make a deed for it. Joseph S. Faloon, of Hanoverton, wants the court to undo a real estate transaction made by him with Samuel M. Burson and to restore to him his property. Burson owned 320 acres in Missouri, for which he claimed he paid $5,400. He represented to Faloon, it is claimed, that it was good rich land and was partly covered with valuable timber. Faloon's lot he held at $3,500, and traded it for Burson's land, giving $100 to boot, paying $25 down and giving his note for the balance. He says he made the trade on Burson's representation concerning the farm and has found that the land is rocky and sandy, hilly and dry. He wants the court to decree the sale to be false and fraudulent and to compel Burson to surrender the note and the $25.

Assignee Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, was today authorized by Judge Boone to sell at private sale the personal property of Harry J. Windham, the confectioner, who assigned recently.

The will in the estate of the late Caroline McLaughlin, of Elk Run township, has been filed for probate.

John H. Gardner was last evening selected as guardian for James Gardner and others, of Middleton township, and a $200 bond was filed.

THE DENNIS CASE

INSURANCE AGENT ON TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE BOONE.

Accused of Violating the Law Regarding a State License.

Lisbon, March 28.—(Special.)—The case of Ohio vs. A. T. Dennis, of Canton, was called in probate court last night and the session continued until nearly midnight. Dennis is an insurance agent and is being prosecuted under a state law which makes it a serious offense to act in Ohio for a foreign insurance company without a license from the state superintendent of insurance.

Last July Dennis insured the store of Robert Treffinger, of Milford, in the Mercantile Fire Insurance company for $1,500, and in the Commercial Fire Insurance company, of Delaware, for $1,000. The penalty for the offense is not more than $1,000 fine or imprisonment not more than six months or both. Attorney D. W. Shetler and Judge Albaugh, of Canton, are defending Dennis, the latter to protect his son, Dennis' partner, who in case of Dennis' conviction might be prosecuted in Stark county.

GIRLS HAVE STRUCK

CULMINATION OF THE GOODWIN POTTERY DISPUTE.

Warehousewomen's Local Took Action at a Meeting Last Evening.

A very interesting meeting of the warehousewomen's union was held in council chamber at city hall last night and the trouble at the Goodwin pottery was thoroughly discussed. The matter was put to a vote and it was unanimously decided for the girls to go on strike, which they did this morning at lunch time.

The girls went to work this morning and their demands were again presented to Mr. Goodwin, but he refused to grant them, and at lunch time they walked out of the plant. When seen this morning in regard to the trouble Mr. Goodwin said:

"There is no trouble between the Goodwin Pottery company and the warehouse girls. The trouble is between the girls and Mr. Hughes."

A reporter called on Mr. Hughes, who stated that it was between the girls and the Goodwin Pottery company in regard to the number of girls to be employed in the biscuit warehouse; that he in company with a committee from the union called on Mr. Goodwin Tuesday and endeavored to settle the difficulty, but he wanted it placed in the hands of the arbitration committee. The girls decided at their meeting last night not to place the matter in the hands of the committee and Mr. Hughes was notified to that effect this morning.

The girls striking will close the whole plant, the dippers and kilnhands having been compelled to quit work this morning, as there was no ware.

JOSEPH DAVIS WINS HIS SUIT

Gets Judgment Against the Street Railway For the Amount Claimed.

JUSTICE M'LANE'S DECISION

Rendered After a Full Hearing Last Night Reinstates the Conductor And Settles the Controversy With the Union—The Testimony Given.

The action brought by Joseph Davis in the court of Justice McLane against the East Liverpool Street railway was given a hearing last evening. Davis came off victorious.

Attorney W. K. Gaston represented the plaintiff, and R. G. Thompson the street railway. But two witnesses testified for the company. Superintendent Wescott and Spotter Nelson Brooker.

Davis was the first witness examined and he testified in his own behalf. He stated to the best of his knowledge he had made a correct accounting to the company for every cent of their money handled by him. He was absolutely sure of this on February 19, the date upon which the shortage was alleged to have occurred. He also told the court he knew Brooker and knew his business that day. The plaintiff rested its case at this point and Brooker was put on the stand.

He testified that on February 19 he had boarded a car at the first switch east of the Wellsville turntable at 11:40 and remained on the car until 12:30. He saw Davis collect 15 fares and noted but 12 had been registered. He was in doubt as to one of these, but was positive the conductor was two fares short. He got off the car at the loop. When asked where he went from there he could not state, and as his memory seemed very bad on a number of other important matters, his evidence had little weight. When questioned he did not know how many passengers were on the car when he boarded it; neither did he remember how many got off or on during the trip. He said he was connected with the United States Detective agency, but refused to answer a question as to how he came to be connected with the East Liverpool company until he was told he had better answer or go to jail. The witness answered each question with a great deal of reluctance and seemed in constant fear of contradicting himself. This had the effect of making his testimony practically worthless.

Superintendent Wescott testified as to the methods of the company in requiring the conductors to make reports each day. He gave the figures for Davis' report on February 19.

Motorman Gus Brandenburg was next called and testified that he ran the car, No. 6, on the day in question. He knew Booker was a spotter, and when asked how he remembered, he stated that he went into the car, and, standing directly in front of the spotter, sized him up for fully a minute. He could not be mistaken. The man was a curiosity and he could not forget. While Gus was on the stand Wescott made some remark questioning the honesty of the motorman. Brandenburg became very angry.

Harry Thoms also knew Brooker was a spotter, and wound up his testimony by stating that the spotter did not know constables were permitted to ride free.

E. S. Kelley, David Mortman and E. L. Taylor, all of Wellsville, were character witnesses, the former testifying that Davis had been in his employ for several years. He was a young man of unquestioned honesty, and was one of the most careful employees that ever worked in his establishment. The other witnesses testified in about the same strain.

The evidence was all in at 9:30 and the justice was not long in rendering a verdict. He referred to the fact that there had been but two witnesses who had given any direct testimony bearing on the case, and from the manner of the spotter he was in doubt as to whether his memory had served him well. He had been so positive about some points and upon others was at a loss to recall anything. For this reason there was some speculation as to his sincerity. However, Justice McLane rendered judgment in favor of Davis for the full amount, $6.24.

This not only entitles the conductor to the money held back by the company, but reinstates him in his old position, according to the agreement entered into between the union and the company.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

WITH AGUINALDO THREE STAFF OFFICERS WERE TAKEN.

Valuable Documents Also Captured. Insurgent Officer Killed in the Fighting.

Washington, March 28.—(Special.)—Details of the capture of Aguinaldo state that three of his staff officers were taken with him. A number of important documents were also taken. An insurgent major was killed in the fighting that preceded the capture.

Aguinaldo seems resigned to his fate and as proud and boastful as ever. He is very cheerful.

An official dispatch from General McArthur and Admiral Remey says Aguinaldo is a prisoner in McArthur's palace. The disposition to be made of the prisoners has not been decided on.

SEQUEL TO A BET

STAKEHOLDER ARRESTED FOR KEEPING THE MONEY.

Development in a Pulling Match Where $50 a Side Was Up.

Thomas McLaughlin and John Nisson on Tuesday engaged in an argument as to the strength of their horses and placed $50 apiece in the hands of Lyman Rinehart that each had a horse which could outpull the other's. Two judges were selected, but they did not decide who was the winner and Rinehart retained the money.

Nisson thought he was the winner and upon the failure of Rinehart to turn the money over to him he went to the office of Squire Rose and swore out a warrant for his arrest, charging him with wrongful conversion with intent to defraud. Rinehart was arrested, taken into court and placed under $200 bond for his appearance in court next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, when the case will be heard.

McLaughlin was arrested yesterday afternoon and fined $2 and costs for cruelty to animals.

The LaBelle company, which has recently increased its capital stock, will expend $1,500,000 in the erection of new mills on this site, and will remove all its mills from Wheeling to it.

Streets are to be vacated and part of a ward razed to make room for the new mills, which will give employment to 1,500 men.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE.

A Sister of John Mayer Died Suddenly in Washington.

A telegram to Chief of Police Thompson this morning stated that Margaret, sister of James Maher, died suddenly in Washington, D. C., today. The chief was requested to notify her brother, who was reported to be a printer in East Liverpool.

Inquiry developed that the dispatch evidently refers to Margaret Mayer, who lived in this city several years ago. John Mayer was employed in this city for a number of years, but has been in Cleveland for some time.

LOCAL GROCERS DO NOT LIKE IT

Complaint of Outsiders Who Take Orders and Sell Goods at Cut Prices.

NOT A PENNY INVESTED

The Cheap Way They Do Business Alleged to Work Harm to Men Who Carry on the Business Extensively, Having Much Capital in It.

The installment agencies have in the past interfered considerably with the sales of the larger merchants, but lately there has been inaugurated in this city a system of selling groceries and other articles usually found in a first-class grocery store, which will have a very bad effect if it is permitted to continue.

A number of good solicitors have been canvassing the town for orders for groceries. They do business upon a cash basis. Their profits are necessarily small, but when it is considered that they have not a penny invested, it is a fairly good investment. Their plan is to make up a list of the common sort of necessities, such as every housewife must have and offer them at a low figure, perhaps even cheaper than they can be bought at a cash grocery. The average woman will not refuse a bargain, especially if accustomed to running an account. The result is she will save sufficient money from each pay to invest in the wares of the solicitor. No fault can be found with the goods, as they are invariably purchased from some of the local merchants, and owing to the fact that they are bought in large quantities the grocer can mark them down.

Said one grocer in regard to the business: "As far as described, it is perfectly legitimate. But what of the merchant who pays several hundred dollars a year for rent, maintains a force of helpers, keeps his place equipped in the way of delivery wagons, heating, lighting, etc? The larger the establishment the heavier the taxes, and this is no small consideration. The other man has nothing invested. If he sells an order for a penny more than it costs he is a penny ahead. He has no rent to pay, as he has no store. When he gets an order he delivers it and there it ends. He pays no taxes. If he happens to be around when tax time comes, and there is any likelihood of his being assessed he changes his base of operations."

Another local grocer said yesterday: "I would not undertake to say that these order-takers are not good citizens, but they certainly do the legitimate merchant a great deal of injury. In addition to the very heavy expense connected with an establishment such as ours, there is not a popular subscription that ever misses us. If we refuse to contribute to a fund for some charitable purpose, no matter upon what grounds, we are put down as not being public spirited citizens. How many of the other class of merchants ever contribute to funds of this character? I want to state right here, it is a difficult proposition to make a grocery business pay in this city under these circumstances. A man must watch every detail, and watch it closely if he expects to make anything out of the trade."

PRIEST SAW MORGAN

Father Phillips, of the Anthracite Region, Confers With the Great Financier.

AIM TO AVOID MINERS' STRIKE

Financier Said Action Could Be Taken Through Other Channels—Said He Thought There Would Be No Strike. Others With Phillips.

New York, March 28.—A delegation composed of five men representing trade interests in the Pennsylvania anthracite coal regions, with the Rev. Edward S. Phillips acting as the chairman, held a conference with J. Pierpont Morgan in the private office of Mr. Morgan in this city. The delegation who met Mr. Morgan comprised the Rev. E. S. Phillips, from Hazleton; Edward Lauderbach, the treasurer, and A. T. McAlister, the secretary of the Hazleton board of trade; J. H. Zerby, president, and L. W. Marquardt, chairman of the manufacturers' committee of the Pottsville board of trade.

Arrangements for this meeting were made this week by the officials of the various boards of trade of the coal region of Pennsylvania through Rev. Father Phillips, as chairman. The conference lasted less than half an hour. Father Phillips made a brief presentation saying that the delegation were there merely to try to bring about some action that would prevent a strike; that they were ready to act as an intermediary body to be used in any way that would compose any differences existing.

Father Phillips asked Mr. Morgan if he would meet John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' association, who has been in New York for several days. Mr. Morgan, in reply said in substance that his attitude up to that time had been toward the prevention of a strike. He said he was much interested in the mission of the delegation and he assured them that they could rely upon him to do all within his power to prevent any action that would paralyze business. He remarked, however, that he was disinclined to hold a public conference with labor leaders, indicating as a reason for this attitude the belief that, should a public meeting between himself and the labor leaders be held, the publicity thereof and possibly attendant conclusion might hamper the achievements of the best ends which all were seeking. In other words Mr. Morgan remarked, should he hold a public meeting or conference, "half of New York would be upon his heels." Mr. Morgan added that the ends sought could best be achieved through other channels and he assured the delegation that he might communicate with the boards of trade later.

"You may rest assured that I believe there will be no strike," remarked Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan shook hands with the members of the delegation and they departed. Mr. Morgan after the conference declined to make any statement relative thereto.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 28.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, issued a call for a joint meeting of the national executive board and the presidents of the three anthracite coal districts of Pennsylvania, to be held here Friday morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected. The meeting is called in pursuance of the resolutions adopted by the recent convention of mine workers at Hazleton and for the purpose of considering the report President Mitchell will present as the result of his visit to New York, where he has been endeavoring to secure a conference with the coal operators. It is believed the action to be taken at Friday's meeting will remove the uncertainty as to whether a strike will be declared April 1.

Cochrell Told Cubans Next Congress Might Demand More.

Havana, March 28.—The committee on relations of the Cuban constitutional convention expected yesterday so it was asserted, to complete its work of drawing up a report for the convention at today's session and to lay the matter before the convention Saturday.

The coming municipal elections are beginning to effect the political situation and to cause the drawing of party lines in the convention. This may result in a reaction from the somewhat liberal spirit that has been manifested by the Radicals during the last few days.

Senator Cockrell was visited by many delegates and he told them all that the Platt amendment is in the interest of Cuba and a guarantee of independence. He advised them to accept it promptly, suggesting that the next congress would not only be more liberal, but would be likely to ask for further concessions if the matter were postponed now.

DR. MEYER COMING

Eminent English Evangelist to Conduct Series of Meetings In Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, March 28.—The Rev. F. B. Meyer, of London, will hold a series of meetings in this city on April 15, 16 and 17, in the Second United Presbyterian church, of Allegheny. He comes on the special invitation of the United Presbyterian churches as the other large denominations of the city declined to unite in the movement. The federation of churches will back up the invitation.

The meetings will be evangelistic largely with some special instruction to ministers and church workers. Dr. Meyer is now on his way north from New Orleans, holding evangelistic services in the large cities on the way. On next Friday he begins meetings in Louisville, Ky., and on this account the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, who has been in Pittsburg several days, was obliged to leave for home. Dr. Meyer will hold his next meeting in Cincinnati. He will also visit Indianapolis, Columbus and Chicago before coming to Pittsburg. Dr. Meyer is regarded as one of the greatest of living evangelists and has been selected as the successor of the late Evangelist Moody. He will come to this country in the fall and take charge of the various Moody institutions at Northfield.

The Rev. Campbell Morgan, a distinguished co-laborer of Dr. Meyer, will come to the United States in June and make a tour of the large cities. He was also a favorite of Evangelist Moody. The Rev. Dr. John McNeill, the celebrated Scotch evangelist, has been engaged to pass two weeks in August at Grove City, with the Bible school to be conducted in that place during the month of August. The people of the United States will thus get to hear the three great evangelists of Great Britain.

Mrs. William Jones, who lives on Second street, says: "I was troubled off and on for eight years with a weakness of the back and kidneys; a dull, aching pain across my loins up under my shoulder blades and rheumatic pains in my right shoulder. I was very susceptible to changes of the weather, and was so bad at times that I could scarcely stand and support my own weight. The trouble affected my nervous system, causing a frequent fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. I generally resorted to porous plasters, but the relief was only temporary. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy, obtained instant relief and a finally a cure."

WOMAN INSURANCE PLACER

New Field For the Business Activity of the Gentle Sex.

Brooklynites have often been called slow by the bustling Manhattanese, but it has always been understood that the term only applied to the male inhabitants of that borough.

An evidence of the Brooklyn woman's versatility and "up to dateness" was given the other day in a large Brooklyn insurance office. The clerks were busy tending customers and binding risks over the counter when a well-dressed woman entered. She was good looking and carried herself with great assurance. A mysterious looking leather case was under her arm.

"Do you want to renew a policy, madam?" inquired a clerk in his best manner.

"Oh, no," she promptly replied. "I represent Messrs. X. & Y., the Court street brokers, and simply want to place these risks."

Thereupon the mysterious leather case, which proved to be a wallet of prodigious size, was opened before the eyes of the astonished clerk, the necessary papers were taken out, and she proceeded as though a woman placer was the most natural thing in the world.

The success of the first woman insurance placer is freely acknowledged, however. It is related that she placed all the insurance she cared to with the company in question, despite the fact that on second thought many were considered questionable risks.

Remarkable Railroad Order.

The superintendent of the Dubuque Division of the Chicago Great Western Railroad company has issued a sweeping order to its employees which has caused a sensation. In effect it prohibits them from using intoxicating liquors in any form or at any time. It applies to trainmen, station agents, foremen and others who hold responsible positions. It prohibits them from entering saloons or using liquor on or off duty, the penalty for any violation of this rule being immediate discharge of the offender. The order also commands all employees to pay their honest debts, and any failure to do so will cause their immediate discharge unless a reasonable excuse can be given.

Chinese Method of Measuring.

Many travelers returning from China have commented upon the apparently singular lack of knowledge of the distances across their country or between their towns that exists among the Chinese. If at one town you inquire the distance to the next, you may be told that it is 20 li (one-third of a mile), but upon arriving at the town you will be surprised to find the distance back to the town from which you have just come is 24 li and that the cost of journeying back again is correspondingly greater than the cost to go to it.

The Chinese measure distance not by rule, but by the amount of physical energy required to traverse them. Their wage is based on a unit of energy, the amount that it takes them to carry a given load, one picul one li, on level ground. If the road from A to B is down hill, the distance is regarded as less than the actual linear distance because it is supposed to take less energy to travel in that direction, or, as the Chinese say, "the li are short." It naturally follows that in traveling in the other direction, from B back to A, the road being a gradual ascent, a greater expenditure of energy is necessary. "The li are long," and in order to get a fair compensation for their work the carriers must see that the distance and the charges are correspondingly increased. With this explanation what has often appeared as a vagary of the Chinese becomes simple and reasonable.—Leslie's Weekly.

Report of Board of Trustees of the City Water works, of East Liverpool, Ohio.

To the Honorable City Council: Gentlemen:—We submit the annual report of the City Water Works for the year ending March 20th, 1901.

Extension during the year, 9609 feet, of main were laid, making a total of 26 miles 5271 feet, an increase of pipe line of one mile 4329 feet. 33 valves were set and nine fire hydrants, making a total of 328 valves and 172 hydrants.

Relaying pipe caused by change of grade and paving the streets, 2720 feet, at a cost of $781.22.

Replacing pipe, Fourth street, 4-inch removed and replaced from Market street to near Flint mill, with 1,728 feet 6-inch at the expense of $1,877.44.

Land for reservoir—Paid on Bradshaw land, $4,076.25; paid to the Thompson Estate for the piece of ground in front of the Reservoir 227 92-100 feet by 68 feet, this land given in consideration of work done in 1900, land sold for $750, labor performed, $700 cash paid $50.00, deed from Bradshaw Estate for Reservoir ground also recorded.

The Trustees expect to finish the Reservoir this summer, will start at once. The consumption during 1900 averaged 2,138,172 gallons per day. We realize that in case of a large fire the water department would be hard pressed to furnish water. During 1900 street mains consumed so large amount of Water Works income, making it impossible to finish the Reservoir.

The Suburban Districts are building up so fast, that the income will not permit us to extend mains to many parts of the City, where it would justify the Water Works to lay pipes. Much of the trouble could be avoided by land owners and land companies, if they would pipe the new addition, then the department could redeem the line out of the income.

Citizens often buy cheap lots without improvements expecting the city at once when a few houses are up to run mains to them, forgetting the long distance between them and the end of main already in, however after this year we hope to be able to put a large part of the income into Pipe Line extensions, Respectfully,

W. L. SMITH,
J. SHENKLE,
H. A. KEFFER,
Board of Trustees.
